About Our School

Our middle school students have numerous opportunities to assume responsibility for their learning. Depending on their interests, incoming students attend either the S.T.E.M. or Arts & Humanities Academy. Within each Academy, students have voice and choice in selecting extracurricular activities they may participate in before or after the regular school day. Students in both academies have regular access to computer technology during the school day as well as the extended-day and Saturday programs. Academic Intervention Services and enrichment programs are offered to enhance students' academic performance and social skills. Our school community strongly believes that parents are our partners. We communicate with our parents regularly via the school website, our monthly calendar, school messenger, and monthly PTA meetings. Jupiter Grades provides parents easy access to information regarding students' grades, attendance, classwork, homework, and conduct. Parents have an opportunity to be part of the learning community through participation in our Adult Education Program, which offers ESL and GED courses as well as monthly workshops.
